THE SATURDAY STAR.

Features of Special Interest in Tomorrow's Big Paper.

A new serial will begin in the Saturday
Star, entitled "O'Keefe, Akoon of Swat," written by Wm. Hamilton Osborne. The scene is laid in a mythical town on the Pacific coast, called after a real principality in northern India. A picturesque villain, whose make-up has many pleasing points, begins a series of new adventures in the opening chapters.

An article of importance to National Guardians of the District and citizens generally and the usual assortment of well-treated topics for old and young will be also found in the literary supplement.

Among other chapters will be:
A nation of marks (illustrated).
Wonderful increase of interest in rifle practice makes this country a rival of Switzerland. Preparations for Sea Girt competition next month.

TALKS OF NEW CHINA (illustrated).
Chief secretary of railway administration talks with Frank G. Carpenter on transportation problems that China is now confronting.

A DOWAGER SEASON (illustrated).
Latest styles seem to be just the right thing for elderly women.

PLAYS GODFATHER (illustrated).
An Ellis Island official much in demand to listen to tales of woe and joy.

THE SEASON'S FANCY (illustrated).
Dazzling tints, bewildering materials but apparent simplicity in late dress models.

AS WRITTEN BY WOLFEUNDER (illustrated).
A short story, written for The Evening Star by Epes W. Sargent.

AN EMPIRE IN PAWN (illustrated).
Morocco is an Arabian Nights land, where life goes on as it did 1,000 years ago.

BLACK FOLKS' SOULS (illustrated).
Shapes and memories pleasing to recall in tales of "mammy."

TO CATCH THE DIMES (illustrated).
Millions expended in modern amusements
and the outlay pays big profits.

PARIS FASHION LETTER (illustrated).
A costume concert and the fetching tol-lets displayed.

THE QUEST OF BEAUTY.
Requirements of midday's toilet table and a bunch of useful recipes.

VARIETY IN SALADS.
A trifling change in the dressing makes a new one.

A VISIT TO DEERFIELD.
Pikemage to a noted Yankee town, where home arts and crafts follow century-old patterns.

STRENUOUS WORK.
The duties of a national chairman and his aids in a political campaign.
